The Bang-Bang Club is a thrilling account of the four photojournalists who worked and have fun together during last days of apartheid. In this book I have learned more about Kelving Carter, a photographer among the four who took the famous picture of a vulture that seemed to stalk a starving child in South Sudan. The photograph made Kelvin get the Pulitzer award. He late

The Bang-Bang Club was a group of four young war photographers, friends and colleagues: Ken Oosterbroek, Kevin Carter, Greg Marinovich and Joao Silva, war correspondants during the last years of apartheid, who took many of the photographs that encapsulate the final violent years of racist white South Africa. Two of them won Pulitzer Prizes for individual photos. Ken, the oldest and a mentor to the others, died, accidentally shot while working; Kevin, the most troubled of the four, committed
